Embargo On Mail Extended

Government Orders Halt to Shipments In Certain Classes Over Entire Nation

Postmaster Atwell L. Bohling received official notification Friday afternoon of a mail embargo, resulting from the switchmen's strike.

The message, from the Postmaster General, placed an embargo on the following items: all second class matter except daily newspapers, all third and fourth class material, and all first class mail exceeding eight ounces. Restrictions do not apply to medicine, drugs, surgical instruments and dressings.

No effected item will be accepted locally, except for local delivery (including rural and star routes), or for destinations westward.

By seven o'clock Friday evening several embargoed packages had been refused by the Sedalia post office and the same routine prevailed on Saturday.

Sedalia is feeling the "sick call" switchmen's railroad strike spreading over the country, the past week, however no switchmen as yet have reported off "sick" in Sedalia. Local trains are being operated by both the Missouri Pacific and the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroads, but several through trains have been temporarily cancelled.

The Missouri Pacific has cancelled passenger trains No. 14 east bound arriving at 5:55 o'clock in the afternoon and No. 15, west bound, arriving at 5:28 in the afternoon. Both trains are primarily mail runs as well as passenger service.

Freight No. 78 did not run Saturday, but local freight runs were in operation.

As to the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, No. 5 and 6 north and south bound passenger and mail trains are still in operation as is the local freight run between New Franklin, Mo., and Parsons, Kansas, both ways. The through freight runs from St. Louis south have been cancelled temporarily.

By The Associated Press
The Postoffice department ordered a nationwide embargo on certain classes of mail Saturday amid scattered return to work movements in the crippling rail switchmen's "sick" strike.

Local back to work movements were reported in various cities from Newark N. J., to Seattle, Wash. These included Sioux City, Ia., Jacksonville, Fla., Fort Worth and Houston, Tex., St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., and several smaller cities in Wisconsin.

None Back At Chicago
However, there were no indications a general trend was under way that would restore normal service on the 50-strike beset railroads serving some 100 large cities. In some places, more switchmen joined the ranks of strike idle. The Army said no men were going back in Chicago.

The scattered back-to-work moves followed a plea from W. P. Kennedy, head of the striking Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and new government mediation efforts in Washington.

Government prosecutors, meanwhile, pressed federal contempt charges in Chicago against the striking switchmen in an effort to break the log jam.

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe ordered the striking union to show cause why it should not be held in contempt in the current walk-out.

The five day strike of 12,000 Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen members has crippled freight and passenger train service in many parts of the country, hit industrial output a sharp blow and forced more than 160,000 into idleness.

The postoffice embargo is an extension throughout the nation of its Thursday embargo which applied only to mail moving to and from 14 eastern states.

Dire Warning Is Given on Black Market

As it Issued a Ban Extended on Use of Aluminum

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—(P)—Price Director Michael V. DiSalle warned today that the first meat black marketer who is caught will be made a "national example." And DiSalle's staff prepared a new and tough mail order designed to aid enforcement of ceiling prices by tight curbs on slaughterers.

At the same time, there were these other developments on the home front:

1. The government banned the use of aluminum in more than 200 consumer items, effective April 1. The items range from storm windows to automobile hardware. Kitchen utensils are not affected, however.

2. DiSalle rolled back the price of steel scrap and iron scrap about 20 percent, wiping out a sharp January increase. A spokesman for the scrap industry welcomed the action and said neither buyers nor sellers wanted the January rise. Scrap is used in making steel, but no change is expected in the price of steel itself.

3. A reduction of eight per cent was ordered in the amount of new rubber available for civilian production in February and March.

As for meat, DiSalle informed a reporter:

"There have already been rumors of black markets in meat. We haven't established whether these are facts or only rumors."

"I feel sorry for the first man we catch. He'll be made a national example."

He didn't smile when he said it. The FBI and other government agencies are helping the small enforcement division of DiSalle's Office of Price Stabilization (OPS).

Penalties for violating the freeze on meat prices could range up to a maximum of a year in jail, $10,000 fine and civil suits to recover damages.

Limit On Slaughterers

Officials of the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) said the order curbing slaughterers probably will be issued Monday or Tuesday all but four of the 27 persons aboard are believed to have perished.

The launch was the motor ship Josefina M., which was bound to Panama City from Jaque, Darien Province. All aboard were Colombians or Panamanians.

Two Saved By Steamer
One passenger and a crewman, dispatched in a small boat for help, were picked up by a passing steamer Wednesday night.

A U. S. Air Force helicopter rescued two other passengers, a man and a woman, from the wind-driven wreckage 45 miles south of the Pacific entrance of the Panama Canal Friday after a long air hunt in which seven dead were sighted.

Officials said limiting of the number of slaughterers—there are now about 3,600 slaughtering establishments—would make it much easier to police the industry and arrest fly-by-night operators who might be willing to pay farmers higher-than-market prices and then sell the meat at prices which violate OPS ceilings—that is, into the black market.

OPS officials are studying another meat problem, that of so-called "token" sales. Some wholesalers are accusing some packers of having made one or two isolated sales at high prices during the Dec. 19-Jan. 25 "base period" on which present ceilings are based and doing this with the sole object of gaining higher ceilings after the freezing of prices at the highest levels of the base period.

It seems doubtful today that the OPS will take any action on these charges, because the agency has not yet been able to tell whether it is really a serious problem.

There was a cotton development at the OPS today, too. Officials of the cotton exchanges, and brokers who sell on the exchanges, were reported to have formally recommended that raw cotton be exempt from price control—not only at the farm level as at present, but also at all stages until it is processed.

This would free ginners from price control and would also lift the freeze from operations on the cotton exchanges. The exchanges have been closed ever since the price order was issued Jan. 26 because of great confusion about its application.

The cotton men's proposal also was reported to include an "escalator clause" under which the price of textiles could go up or down with changes in the price of raw cotton. The OPS is considering the recommendations.

23 Perish As Large Launch Is Capsized

Man and Woman Rescued By An Army Helicopter

By Luis Noli

PANAMA, Panama, Feb. 3—(P)—Rough seas capsized a 45-ton launch in Panama Bay in the darkness early Wednesday and all but four of the 27 persons aboard are believed to have perished.

The launch was the motor ship Josefina M., which was bound to Panama City from Jaque, Darien Province. All aboard were Colombians or Panamanians.

Two Saved By Steamer
One passenger and a crewman, dispatched in a small boat for help, were picked up by a passing steamer Wednesday night.

A U. S. Air Force helicopter rescued two other passengers, a man and a woman, from the wind-driven wreckage 45 miles south of the Pacific entrance of the Panama Canal Friday after a long air hunt in which seven dead were sighted.

These two had clung to the wreckage 50 hours.

He was a Panamanian teacher, Marcos Medina. The woman, wide-eyed but too weak to talk, was Nemesia San Clemente. Both are in Santo Tomas hospital.

Launch Sank Gradually
Medina, still too dazed to give a coherent account of the wreck, said the launch sank gradually.

Passengers went aboard make-shift rafts. Some crazed by lack of water, leaped into the sea Thursday and vanished.

By Friday dawn, Medina said, only he and the woman still clung to the debris. They were sighted by American search planes at noon and the helicopter picked them up an hour later.

Cattle Killed By Severe Cold

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 3—(P)—Two hundred and 50 crossbreed Brahman cattle, developed to withstand Florida's semi-tropical heat, were killed by the present cold snap.

The loss was placed by stock raisers at $50,000 and ranches feared additional deaths among the hump backed breed of Indian ancestry in the freeze predicted tonight.

The toll from exposure and trampling may climb as high as 800.

Many of the valuable cattle were trampled to death as herds bunched for warmth on ranges around Lake Okeechobee during last night's icy rain.

Other victims, weakened by malnutrition, lay dead or dying on grassless muckland pastures.

The winter's previous bitter cold spell had killed their pasture grass.

The Weather

Partly cloudy and mild Sunday, turning colder extreme north Sunday; partly cloudy and much colder Sunday night and Monday; highs Sunday 45-55.

Car Skids Into Train; Driver Hurt

Charles McDow, 16 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDow, of Barnett, received minor cuts and bruises Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock when the 1939 Chevrolet he was driving was hit by a west-bound Rock Island freight train, No. 93 at the crossing in Barnett. He attempted to stop for the train to pass, but his car skidded into the train. His car was carried by the train as far as the section house. He jumped, receiving slight injuries. The car was demolished.

He was treated by Dr. Onley Shelton of Eldon and returned to his home.

Routine Business For Council

The Sedalia City Council will hold its regular bi-monthly meeting at the Council Chamber in the City Hall at 7:30 o'clock Monday night. Routine business of the city will be discussed.

Address Given To Teachers

Dr. Virgil Cheek Speaker at the S-C High School

Dr. Virgil Cheek, head of the department of business of education of the Southwest Missouri State college, Springfield, and past president of the Missouri State Teachers Association addressed the Community Teachers meeting which was held at the Smith-Cotton high school Saturday morning.

Taking for his subject, "Making Teaching a Real Profession," he explained that his philosophy was that he believed wholeheartedly in the American way of life, that he believed in a strong program of education.

Problems today, he said, are more complex, therefore better teachers are necessary and there is a demand for a strong educational program.

Teachers, the speaker pointed out, should be well trained and only such teachers be classified as professionals. There should be a teachers program, he said, that compares to that of doctors, lawyer and other professions and illustrating his point he said the professional doctor would not work with a quack, neither should a well trained teacher permit unqualified teachers to be classified as professionals.

In order to have improvement in the teaching profession we must have a fundamental faith in teachers of America, he said, we must believe that the majority of the people are right. We must see to it that they have the correct information, Dr. Cheek continued, we must get the facts over and given the facts the majority of the people will do the right things. Responsibility for information given the public rests on the shoulders of the teacher.

Some people feel that anyone can teach, Dr. Cheek said, or if he has a college education that is all that is required, but to make teaching a real profession one must enter into his work with zest, love it and keep trying to learn more and teach better. He must become a skilled craftsman at his job as well as others at theirs, he said.

The education of the children today differs greatly from that of a few years back, he explained, and demands our most intelligent efforts. We must stand up for our profession and object to anything but the best, he said, we must believe in this profession is going forth to give its whole heart and soul to its growth and insist on higher standards.

American can not exist without education he concluded, therefore it is the teacher's grave responsibility to convince the public of its needs.

Paris Streets Jammed at The Time of Visit By Eisenhower

By Rev. David M. Bryan First Christian Church Special To Democrat-Capital

Paris, France: I arrived in France from Tel Aviv, Israel, in time to witness the way in which our own General Eisenhower was received here. Of course, most of the French people received him in the same way we all expected, and hoped they would. However, I had the experience of seeing the Communist demonstration against him.

I found the streets jammed with many thousands of people and literally hundreds of police. The Paris paper reported the town's waterworks froze solid and was only partly thawed by blazing fires built around it. Citizens had to resort to melting snow for water in the emergency.

At the height of cold-riden floods in southeastern Kentucky some 4,000 persons were homeless. The Cumberland river was falling, however, removing threats to several towns and permitting many refugees to return home.

In Ohio, the Ohio river overflowed low-lying roads and nearly flooded stage at many points.

Whether he will get approval of the other $6,000,000 needed to balance next year's budget is less certain, these sources say. If so, it probably won't take effect until calendar 1952, they think.

Four Injured in Collision of Cars

A head-on collision between two 1949 Ford coaches caused injuries to four women about 2:15 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, one mile south of the Windsor junction on highway 65. Damages of approximately $500 resulted to both automobiles.

One car was driven by Mrs. Louis Balke, 41, Cole Camp, who was headed north on the highway and the other by Mrs. G. J. Otis, 44, Forest City, Ia., who was headed south on the highway.

Mrs. Balke suffered a chest injury and her daughter-in-law Mrs. Betty Balke, 20, abrasions on her forehead. Mrs. Balke's two-year-old grandson escaped injury.

Mrs. Balke was brought to the Bothwell hospital where x-ray pictures were taken to determine the extent of their injuries.

Mrs. Otis and her daughter Miss Patricia Otis, 20, were brought to Sedalia by a passing motorist and taken to the Woodland Hospital and Clinic where Dr. R. A. Enoch treated them and took x-rays to determine the extent of their injuries.

Mrs. Otis suffered fractures of several ribs and shock while her daughter suffered a slight concussion and shock. They were admitted to the hospital for further observation.

State Trooper Pete Stohr made an investigation.

Relief, slow but steady, had set in for most of the rest of normally balmy Dixie, beset for six days by snow, ice and near-zero temperatures. But the weather bureau charted freezing weather to the tip of Florida, land of citrus, lush winter vegetables and tourists. A low of 17 was in sight for the northern Florida border.

For Floridians the weather added a measure of insult to injury by granting Los Angeles a bright sun and a pleasant temperature of 73 during the day.

The full ferocity of the arctic blast was pin-pointed by such fantastically low thermometers as -35 at Greensburg, Ind., Friday, an all-time low, -30 in south Ohio and -27 at Logan, Ohio.

Readings of -10 at Nashville, Tenn., -12 at Tallulah, La., and 12 at Mobile, Ala., cut like icy swords at southerners more used to 40 or 50 degrees at this season.

Rescue Craft Saved 14 of 20 Men Chance For Missing Six

San Francisco, Feb. 3—(P)—An Air Force fishing party ran into disaster off the Golden Gate this afternoon, with a possible loss of six lives, when the Army tug carrying them capsized in rough seas.

Rescue craft saved 14 of the 20 men aboard the tug and there was a chance that some of the missing six may have been picked up by small boats which gathered at the scene.

NEA Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — The fortune built in 20 years by Bing Crosby from starring roles in 43 movies, radio program, the sale of 10,000,000 phonograph records a year and shrewd investments has been estimated as high as $5,000,000.

His actual worth, down to the last Lincoln head, may never be made public.

His income in 1951 will be close to $1,000,000.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's the last of three dispatches by NEA's Hollywood reporter that tell the fabulous success story of Bing Crosby, the erstwhile playboy who fell uphill to the big time and has stayed on the top in show business, radio and on records for 20 years.

"That's the only direct financial way you can get from the Crosby Ft. Knox except for a rough breakdown of Bing's annual personal income — two Paramount motion pictures at $150,000 each, $400,000 a year from record royalties and $150,000 from his weekly radio program.

death several months ago, Pop Crosby arrived daily for "work" at the office at 10 a.m., left promptly at noon.

The name of Bing Crosby appears on many commodities, from frozen orange juice to a filmed television series, "Fireside Theater."

There are big trust funds for Crosby's four sons — Gary, who will be 18 in June; Phillip and Dennis, the twins, who will be 17 in July, and Lindsay, who was 13 on Jan. 5.

Lately the boys have been singing with Bing, on records and on his air show, "to pick up a little change." But there are no $100 bills sticking out of the boys' blue jeans. Gary, for example, spent one summer picking thistles on the Crosby Nevada ranch at $1 a day.

The ranch, 60 miles from Elko, Nev.—where Bing is honorary mayor—is a 25,000-acre layout on which Crosby runs 2,000 head of cattle for profit, shoots deer and pheasant for fun and sings by a campfire "to get away from it all."

The Crosbys seldom entertain in Hollywood style, but expenses are heavy.

There are salaries for employees of the Crosby Investment Corp.

of "Silent Night" went to various religious charities—an estimated $250,000.

And there's the Crosby Research Foundation to encourage inventors and scientists in their work.

According to legend, Bing has the Midas touch, just can't lose on any kind of an investment. He told me:

"I've lost plenty of money on oil wells and race horses. I'd hate to tell you what we lost producing 'Abie's Irish Rose.' There was a tidy little $200,000 written in red ink in a three-year drought on cattle ranch at Los Banos, Calif. I've had my share of turkeys in a lot of things—including a turkey ranch. They all died."

Long-term Investment that pays daily dividends

THESE are days when thoughtful people turn their minds to the durability of things they purchase—and that makes good sense at any time.

But you may have noticed that it's a rare occasion when doing your duty turns out to be the best way to satisfy your heart's desire.

That's what's so marvelous about this '51 Buick.

If you picked a car just for the lift it gives you—your pride in its power and pace—or its generous comfort and room—you couldn't make a better choice.

But make note of this:

That gleaming new push-bar forefront, which greets your eye with flashing beauty, contains 25 grille bars made of stamped steel, individually mounted to "give" and come back unharmed. Combined with a massive, wrap-around bumper, fortressed by two stalwart "bumper bombs" and two added uprights, it gives unsurpassed protection.

The springs of stout spiraled steel on all four wheels let your wheels dip and curtsey over uneven highways, while you ride level as a lance. But these springs also need no servicing, and breakage is virtually unknown.

Buick's great-powered engine is a Fireball, wondrously lively and eager at the mere touch of your toe—but it also wrings extra power from every drop of fuel, and has the mechanical perfection that comes only from years of experience with this basic design.

Dynaflow Drive gives every mile you drive effortless smoothness of control—but it also eliminates clutch repair bills, saves tires, puts less strain on the whole driving mechanism, from engine to differential.

The road-steady gait of a Buick gives you a sense of relaxed security—and is also evidence that you have a durable, deep-silled, X-braced frame beneath you.

However you check it, you'll discover this: The things that make you yearn for a Buick on first acquaintance, are the very same things that make Buick such a smart long-time buy.

Better make it a point to see your Buick dealer—soon.

Mother's March on Polio Big Success

"The Mothers March on Polio who took part in the Mothers' last Wednesday night was the March on Polio," Mr. Webber said. "The PTA organization indeed take great pride in a great job well done."

Acting as Area Captains in the drive were the following PTA presidents: Mrs. W. J. Knight, Horace Mann school; Mrs. Lawrence Dailey, Broadway school; Mrs. L. E. Sheridan, Whittier school; Mrs. Charles Poynter, Jefferson school; Mrs. Howard Gwinn, Washington school; and Mrs. C. L. Kelley, Mark Twain school.

Owing to the bad weather on the night of the drive, unfortunately there were some sections of the city which could not be covered adequately. All families whose porchlight invitations were missed are urged to send their donations to "Mothers March on Polio, Postmaster, Sedalia," or they may leave their donations in person with Miss Alice Scott at the Probate Judge's office in the Court House.

This is the first year such an undertaking has been tried on a national scale. The idea was tried in only one city in 1950, in Phoenix, Arizona, and met with such huge success that the March of Dimes filmed the entire proceeding and made the film available to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Mr. Webber secured the film which was shown at the January meeting of the Sedalia PTA Council, and the idea met with such enthusiastic support that the PTA immediately voted to sponsor the drive in Sedalia.

In reality, the Mothers March on Polio is a big show, with every mother a star," Webber commented. It was a tremendous organizational effort, requiring hours of hard work to make certain that the drive worked smoothly.

As a result, from 7 to 8 o'clock on Wednesday night, a house to house canvass was made at those homes showing a porchlight as an invitation to the block workers to receive donations to the March of Dimes.

Under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Gib Owen, President of the PTA Council, each PTA president acted as Area Captain for a designated portion of the city. Acting under their guidance, hundreds of Sedalia women volunteered as block workers to cover the entire city in one hour.

Through the cooperation of the Mayor's office, and the police and fire departments, transportation was made available to escort the PTA presidents with their collections to City Hall, where the money was locked up for the night.

The temperature down to zero and a heavy snow falling, the hour for the drive arrived, all over Sedalia the porch lights began to blossom. Too much credit cannot be given to the women and mothers of Sedalia who ventured forth on such a night, plodding over icy snow-covered streets so that some child, somewhere may walk again.

The Pettis County Chapter for Infantile Paralysis wishes it were possible to give its personal thanks to every individual worker

Moose Lodge To Give Benefit Dance

The Sedalia Lodge, No. 1494, Loyal Order of Moose will again this year entertain the public with a dance commemorating the March of Dimes Polio Fund.

The dance will be held Saturday night, February 10, starting at 9:30 p.m. at the local Moose home at 2nd and Lamine streets.

An interesting innovation to the annual affair will be the Taxi Dance. The dancing area will be roped off and couples will be charged one dime per dance. The lodge will furnish the orchestra and there will be no cover or admission charge, with all funds from ticket sales going to the March of Dimes.

For this occasion the lodge has secured the Bob Cummings five piece band. The music promises to be good, enjoyable and helps some crippled children to walk because you danced.

So fill your pockets with dimes and look for the green MOOSE sign on the old post office building, and remember—

Down to the Moose and Dance for a dime so a child may walk and have a good time.

The Sedalia Lodge, No. 1494, Loyal Order of Moose will again this year entertain the public with a dance commemorating the March of Dimes Polio Fund.

The dance will be held Saturday night, February 10, starting at 9:30 p.m. at the local Moose home at 2nd and Lamine streets.

An interesting innovation to the annual affair will be the Taxi Dance. The dancing area will be roped off and couples will be charged one dime per dance. The lodge will furnish the orchestra and there will be no cover or admission charge, with all funds from ticket sales going to the March of Dimes.

For this occasion the lodge has secured the Bob Cummings five piece band. The music promises to be good, enjoyable and helps some crippled children to walk because you danced.

So fill your pockets with dimes and look for the green MOOSE sign on the old post office building, and remember—

Down to the Moose and Dance for a dime so a child may walk and have a good time.

Damage to the two automobiles was only slight. None of the occupants of the two cars was injured.

The postoffice said the strike, which started Tuesday in Detroit and Chicago, had spread to more than 50 railroads serving approximately 100 cities.

Postmaster General Donaldson said no restrictions will apply under the embargo to "mail for local delivery (including rural routes, star routes and highway postoffices) or to mail originating at and destined for delivery at nearby points on local lines between which it is known that no interference with transportation exists."

W. P. Kennedy, BRT president in Chicago for the contempt hearing, told newsmen he has wired regional BRT officers:

"You must use every method at your command in cooperation with the vice presidents who are working day and night to bring an end to this unauthorized stoppage of discussion."

Thad Scott, Jr., head of the board, asked railroad and union officials to sit down jointly with the board to discuss the strike.

The joint session did not get under way until 6 p.m. EST and continued for over two hours before the group took a supper recess.

When the conferees were returning for a session which began about 9 p.m. one of the principals expressed the opinion to a reporter that a settlement tonight seemed improbable.

"There's too much ground to cover," this negotiator remarked.

There seemed little chance the board would keep the committee in session all night.

That was done Dec. 20-21 by the Mediation Board and Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman.

The unions and railroad representatives met separately with the board Friday night, but mediators were not able to bring the two sides together.

Army quartermaster officers in Chicago said the work stoppage has created "quite a problem" in supplying Army camps with food. The Army has been able to meet the situation so far by purchasing fruits, vegetables and other perishables as close to camps as possible and trucking it to camps. However, all camps are in short supply, officers said.

Knupp And 23 Others Freed

LANDSBERG, Germany, Feb. 3—(P)—Munitions maker Alfred Krupp, four generals and 24 other Germans walked out of the Landsberg war crimes prison today into a festival of freedom.

Joyful relatives clutching bouquets rushed into the arms of the men as the massive wooden doors open.

Krupp, 43, appeared gray and drawn, but beamed gaily and readily posed for pictures.

In contrast, Count Lutz von Schwerin-Krosigk, a former German finance minister, slipped away immediately and Gen. Hubert Lanz flared at photographers: "Stop this nonsense."

The 29 convicted war criminals were freed under a mass clemency ordered this week by American authorities. They had been sentenced by U. S. courts at Nuremberg.

Those who walked out of the big red prison which once housed Adolf Hitler included:

Lt. Gen. Wilhelm Speidel, brother of Gen. Hans Speidel, who is representing the West German republic in rearmament negotiations with the Western allies, Gen. Ernst Von Leyser, Gen. Ernst Dehner, Krupp gun designer, Erich Mueller and Krupp executives Friederich Janssen, Friederich Von Buelow, Karl was confined largely to posters and insulting shouts. I saw dozens arrested and hauled away—as many women as men. The former appeared more vociferous than the latter.

While I was standing to one side watching the demonstration against the general and my own country, a woman demonstrator came up to me and said "I see a shame, the way you Americans want to come over here and fight us." I was dumbfounded both by the thought and by the ease with which she spotted me for an American. I replied that America did not want to fight anyone.

I saw written in her face a deep unreasonable hatred for all I represented to her. As a sign of her disgust she spit on the ground at my feet (obviously preferring my face) and then said to H—"I suddenly remembered vehemently, "all Americans go to H—" I suddenly remembered that I had business elsewhere.

More Like Home

Aside from such experiences as the above, coming to France from the Middle East is almost like coming home. Here I find people dressing as I do and eating foods similar to those to which I have been accustomed. There are no donkeys and camels in the streets and no people carrying jugs and baskets on their heads. In an eleven hour flight I have left the ancient world and re-entered the modern. The experience makes one appreciate more thoroughly the dangers and values of both.

This afternoon I visited Napoleon's elaborate tomb in company with a Kansas Mennonite, a religious sect which refuses participation in any war. The guard requested him to remove his hat and he left rather than to obey. I don't know what was in the fellow's mind. I never saw him again. But it occurs to me that in one sense he represents the best spirit of America—the American who refuses to take his hat off to tyranny and bloody conquest.

New Head For LaMonte Bank

E. R. Keller has sold his controlling interest in the LaMonte Community Bank to C. H. Gopert of Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. Keller has lived in LaMonte since 1896 and was in the grocery business there until he organized the LaMonte Community bank in 1946 after the community had been without a bank for 15 years. The bank's deposits grew to more than $500,000 under his leadership. Mr. Keller has not announced his future plans.

Mr. Gopert, the new owner, who also owns control of banks at Odessa, Rockport and Norborne, Missouri, spent the first 17 years of his life on farms in north central Kansas. He started in the banking business in 1946 after the community had been without a bank for 15 years. The bank's deposits grew to more than $500,000 under his leadership. Mr. Keller has not announced his future plans.

In 1941 he purchased control of the Peoples State bank of Dodson, Mo. (just outside Kansas City) and was its president until 1948; during which time its deposits grew from $35,000 to $200,000. After selling his interest in that bank, he acquired control of banks at Odessa, Rockport, and Norborne, Mo., in 1943 and 1949.

Floyd Ripley, who has been a cashier of the LaMonte bank since it was organized in 1946, will continue in that position and will be in charge of the bank. He has been a resident of LaMonte for the past 30 years except for a 6-year period (1925-1932).

Security Wall Declared Need By Gen. 'Ike'

Munitions And Equipment To Build Up Armies

By John B. Owen
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—(P)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower last night called on Americans to "seize the lead" in building across Europe "a wall of security for the free world behind which free institutions can live."

"That wall," he said, "must be maintained until Communist imperialism dies of its own inherent evils."

It will take troops—"transfer to Europe of American military units is essential"—but in saying so the supreme commander of the North Atlantic Defense Forces sought to de-emphasize this controversial subject.

Munitions Needed Immediately
"Our major and special contribution should be in the field of munitions and equipment," he declared: It is Europe's "most immediate need" for building their armies.

The European nations must, of course, produce and maintain the great bulk of the land forces necessary to their defense, he added.

Reporting to the nation on his survey of the defense potential of America's North Atlantic Treaty allies, the general declared that the war-ravaged continent is not left spiritually bankrupt; the treaty pledging 12 nations to mutual partnership against Communism "has noticeably lifted morale, the fundamental element in this whole situation."

In this connection, Eisenhower advocated earlier in the day on capitol hill that American military units be sent soon to Europe for their psychological effect in launching the vast defense program.

In his address, broadcast to the nation, Eisenhower counseled:

"The arrival in Europe of new American land and air units, though modest in protective influence by themselves, will certainly produce added confidence and accelerate the production of military force throughout the member nations."

Eisenhower took direct issue with arguments advanced by former President Herbert Hoover and others that the United States should concentrate on defending the western hemisphere, the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and important islands. Hoover has said that Europe should build its own barrier against Russian aggression.

Eisenhower, without mentioning Hoover or any one else by name, said it would be "utter hopelessness" to abandon the North Atlantic Treaty and by ourselves try to build a separate fortress against threatening aggression."

If Western Europe should fall, southeastern Asia probably would soon be lost; materials needed for American existence likely would be shut off in various regions of the world, he added.

"World destiny would then be dictated by totalitarian powers whose avowed purpose is the destruction of freedom," the general said.

Aged Woman's Death Puzzles Officials

MORLEY, Mo., Feb. 2—(P)—An 80-year-old widow, Mrs. Henrietta Daugherty, was found dead in her home Friday under circumstances which provided officials with an unusual puzzle.

The woman's body, with the clothing burned away, was erect in a charred chair which was about four feet from a coal stove. Aside from a hole burned in the floor beneath the chair, there was no damage to the room.

Coal buckets were filled, indicating that little fuel had been burned during the night.

After some study, officials came to the conclusion that Mrs. Daugherty got out of bed last night to put coal in the stove and suffered a heart attack while so doing. Then her clothes caught fire as she stumbled to the chair.

Morley is in the Missouri boot-hill, where temperatures skidded to as low as 10 below last night.

Williams-Lamm Wedding

In a candlelight service at the Grosse Pointe Congregational church at 7:30 o'clock Friday night February 2, Miss Joy Louise Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur George Williams, 810 Lincoln Road, Grosse Pointe, Mich., became the bride of Mr. Donald Sangree Lamm, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sangree Lamm, Sr., 1303 South Osage avenue, this city. The marriage ceremony was read by the Rev. Charles Scheid.

The bride's ivory pearl satin gown was Renaissance inspired in styling. The Florentine neckline of the long sleeved bodice was bordered with a deep cuff of satin, delicately embroidered with tiny pearls. Sprays of pearls in petal motif were repeated at the front of the gown spreading the full length of the flared skirt which swept to a graceful circular train. A princess bonnet of matching satin with tiny bands forming the open work crown, held in place her tiered veil of silk illusion. The bride's bouquet was of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Patsy Parkin of Port Huron, Mich., sorority sister and roommate of the bride, as maid of honor wore a gown of seafoam green satin with matching bonnet and mitts and carried a cascade bouquet of talisman roses with ivy.

Miss Joanne Auch of Detroit, Miss Virginia Ellis of Saginaw, Mich., Mrs. James Nixon, of Ann Arbor, Mich., and Mrs. Donald Williamson of Detroit were bridesmaids. They wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor and their cascade bouquets were of yellow roses and ivy.

Mrs. Charles Johnston of Uniontown, Pa., served Mr. Lamm as best man. Mr. Phillip Webb, Cadillac, Mich., Mr. James Temple of Detroit, Mr. John Baker of Port Huron, Mich., and Mr. Bryan Baker of Flint, Mich., were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a dress of navy taffeta with Venise lace trim and her shoulder corsage was of pink orchids.

The bridegroom's mother wore beige crepe with matching lace trim and carried a corsage of brown orchids attached to her purse.

A reception was held at the Whittier hotel, after which the couple left by plane for wedding trip in Florida. For traveling the bride wore a suit of navy miron gabardine with attachable cape trimmed with white pique, a navy straw hat and white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside in Ann Arbor, Mich., until university studies are completed after which they will reside in Sedalia.

Out of town guests were Mrs. George L. Williams, Cairo, Ill., grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Donald S. Lamm, Sr., of Sedalia, mother of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Norman McDonough, son Michael and daughter Joyce, and Mrs. A. A. Poole all of Toledo, Ohio.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, fashioned in Victorian style with basque bodice and high collar neckline trimmed with Venise-type lace scattered with tiny rhinestones. The long sleeves pointed at the wrists, were caught with small bows to make a leg-of-mutton effect. The COLOR IS YOUR CUE, so make the most of you and bad ones. Just don't make up your mind that you can't wear red, green or blue, without first trying on the different shades. Certain shades of make-up may make the color just right for you. Try some new color combinations—particularly in the spring. Have you worn kelly green with your navy?—try it, because it is an exciting combination. A pale yellow blouse, gloves and trim on a hat with your navy suit is beautiful. Pink in any shade will do wonders for black, navy, grey or shades of brown. In selecting the right colors, first be sure it is right for your hair and complexion, then decide if you wish to look more slender or heavier. This doesn't necessarily make a color taboo for you—only the shade of it you will be wearing. Take some time out now and make these tests then when you go shopping you'll shop with more confidence.

Dad would be mighty pleased to receive a fine new portrait of his family on Valentine's Day. He's deserving of such thoughtfulness, and we would like to make the picture for you in our cheerful studio.

Instead of using newspapers inside the front door to protect your rug when the family or guests remove their galoshes during the snow or rainy season; how about getting a desk size blotter the same color or harmonizing shade as your carpet. The blotter will absorb moisture and galoshes lined up on it will get rid of that "cluttered-up" effect around the front door in the type weather we're now having.

'Spring' Theme Of Music Club Program

Although the thermometer was ranging below zero, spring came in music to the members of the Helen G. Steele Music club, when a program entitled "A Treat in Light Music" was presented on Wednesday afternoon. The chairmen of the day, Mrs. William Hert and Mrs. Dick Monsees were presented by the life-president, Mrs. E. F. Yancey, who presided.

Colorful platform decorations announced the season, with large sprays of dogwood blossoming above a section of split-rail fence, and a border of jaunty tulips. A cardinal sang from a fence-rail and an alert squirrel seemed poised to catch every note of the music. An interesting narrative, written by Mrs. Frank S. Leach, was read by Mrs. C. F. Scotten as the program was presented. Two unusual features of the afternoon were a six-hand piano number, and a string quartet. The sextet, directed by Mrs. Percy Metcalf, wore dresses of yellows and greens and spring prints to further carry out the illusion of springtime.

The following program was presented:

"Spring Song," piano solo, Mendelsohn—Mrs. Charles L. Patterson.

"Oh! What a Beautiful Morning," Hammerstein - Rodgers, arranged by William Stickles; and "Spring Heralds" M. W. Daniels—Mrs. Ernest Lieber, Mrs. George Lovercamp, Mrs. Ira White, Mrs. Robert Long, Mrs. Ben Robinson, Mrs. Roy Kirchofer; accompanist, Miss Lillian Fox; director, Mrs. Percy Metcalf.

"Rustic Dance" Rienecke, op. 266-No. 2; and "A May Day," E. G. Rathburn, piano trios—Mrs. Paul Berthouex, Mrs. B. B. Bess, Mrs. Oscar DeWolf.

"Glow Worm," Lincke, violin solo—Miss Ross Marie Reed; accompanist, Mrs. C. C. DeLozier.

"Country Gardens," Grainger, piano duo—Mrs. Fred Handley, Mrs. Robert Stannard.

"The Dickey-Bird Song," Dietz-Fain; and "To a Waterfall" Kahal-Fain, vocal solos—Mrs. Esther Miesenheimer; accompanist, Mrs. A. R. Beach.

"Flight of the Bumble Bee," N. Rimsky-Korsakon, arranged by Gould-Shuster—Mrs. E. G. Ringen, Mrs. J. W. Wats.

"The Storm," Weber — Mrs. Ralph Salmon.

"April Showers," De Sylva-Silvers; "Springtime," Dorothy Watkins—Vocal sextet.

"Memory Lane," B. G. DeSylva; "Springtime," "I'll See You Again," Noel Coward; "When Day Done," Robert Katscher arranged by Henry Sopkin, violin quartet—Miss Florence Hert, Mrs. Ralph Carrel, Miss Challis Johnson, Mrs. D. R. Edwards; accompanist, Miss Lillian Fox.

Tigers Drop Finale Of Clinton Tourney To Maryville, 41-40

The Smith-Cotton Tigers lost a heart-breaking contest to the Maryville Spoofhounds in the final of the 26th Annual Clinton Invitational Tournament Saturday night before an overflow crowd by a 41-40 score.

The Tigers were never behind until the final four minutes of the last frame, when the Northeast Missouri five poured through a bucket to send them ahead to stay. The Tigers lost their ace rebounder and high-point man, Bob Shawver after a minute of play in the third quarter. The loss of big Bob hurt the Tiger chances of winning severely. Before fouling out he took the majority of the rebounds and dumped in eight points.

The Bengals inability to hit in the second half actually cost them the victory as they connected for only one bucket from the field and eight charity tosses.

Bill Morgan tallied 15 points to lead the Sedalia attack, but his efforts were not enough to offset the keyed-up Spoofhounds scoring pace.

After Shawver left the game the locals gathered few rebounds and their set plays off post were stopped. It is evident that the Bengals have not found another Shawver to take the post when he leaves a contest. Fouling out besides Shawver were Johnson and Murphy, who left the game late in the final frame.

The Tigers grabbed 12-8 first period lead and added two points to it by half time by a 30-25 score.

In the second half the game was strictly a defensive battle with the locals dinking in 10 points while Maryville was able to muster 16.

Chuck Taylor Gets

Sanford Position

PALTO ALTO, Calif., Feb. 3—(P)—Stanford University today reached into the professional ranks and picked Charles A. "Chuck" Taylor as head football coach.

Taylor, Stanford alumnus and for the past year line coach of the San Francisco 49ers, had been favored as the likely coach.

Only 31, Taylor is one of the youngest men ever to take over as head football mentor at a major university.

His appointment to the post was announced this morning by the Stanford Athletic board.

From the beginning of the search for a new coach, begun five weeks ago following the resignation of Marchie Schwartz, Taylor was rated a prime contender.

Taylor, a red-haired, square-jawed gent, earned All-American rank as a guard on Stanford's 1942 squad. He made All-Pacific Coast teams three years running. Terms of Taylor's contract were not announced.

Southern Conference

Drops Freshman Rule

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—(P)—Freshmen will be eligible to play on Southern Conference varsity sports teams beginning next fall.

As an emergency measure, due to dwindling numbers of students because of the military draft and enlistments, the conference has voted to return to its World War Two eligibility position.

The conference decision, announced here today by President Max Farrington, came after a mail vote among the 17 members. It is the first major conference to take such action.

Bear Adrain In First Game

The Tigers won their first game of the tournament Friday as they squeaked past the towering Adrain Tigers by a 49-47 margin. Smith-Cotton put on a last quarter surge to zoom past the losers with a final five points.

Smith-Cotton regained the lead in the early minutes of the third period and sailed on to victory. With two minutes remaining the Tigers held the biggest lead of the game, five points.

Great Circle Takes

Santa Anita Race

Worth $144,325

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 3—(P)

California-owned Great Circle

won the world's richest horse race

today in a surprise finish and collected the record sum of $144,325 out of a fantastic gross purse of $205,700.

All in all, however, the Tigers have a fairly good record, with 15 wins against 7 losses, not counting the Clinton tournament championship game.

Take Clinton high school which team has been a hot-rock

all season beating everybody in the neighborhood including

Windsor, which team has beaten the Tigers twice this season.

The Tigers disposed of Clinton in the tournament Saturday afternoon in the semi-finals 40-37.

Don't underestimate Clinton whose Charlie Bath scored 22 of Clinton's points against the Tigers. Bath was hot, but his team mates were not quite warmed up enough to put the Sedalians out of the running, as was planned by the Henry countians.

Basketball fans might keep their fingers crossed when the Regional tournament is played at Warrensburg, Clinton and Sedalia

may end up in the Regional tournament,—and it's possible —against each other.

RECENTLY the announcement of the reactivation of the Sedalia

Air Force Base got everybody in a stir in Sedalia, Warrensburg and area. One of the requests, recreation for the personnel who would be stationed at the field, was made by the Air Force. That is a simple problem, Central Missouri, in fact

Missouri has plenty of recreation of every type which would interest army personnel.

A survey completed recently gives this area an A-1 rating in recreation. There are plenty of swimming spots; Sedalia's new swimming pool at Liberty Park, the Garden of Eden at Warrensburg, even the large pool at Warrensburg attracted soldiers during World War II, the Lake of the Ozarks.

Fishing can be had many places in this area; the Lake of the Ozarks, Pirtle Springs at Warrensburg, Lake Tebo, Flat

Creek, Muddy Creek, and a dozen smaller streams in the area.

If it's baseball we have it in semi-pro, American Legion and Ban Johnson teams, while a short trip to Kansas City will furnish AAA Minor League baseball and Majors at St. Louis—not too far to travel for a ball game.

Should the Air Force decide to have ball teams, I suppose Sedalia and Warrensburg can furnish some stiff semi-pro competition as well as Holden, Warsaw, Clinton, and even Windsor if the going should get tough enough.

Basketball comes under the same status as baseball, except

you add the Central Missouri State College Mules, Missouri Valley,

University of Missouri for college entertainment, I expect those college teams would also give the Air Field team competition if they desire to get in such fast company.

So to assure the Air Force we have recreation, all they have to do is pay us a nice visit and I am sure we have all the selling points necessary to satisfy them.

Lexington Trounced

The Hubbard high school basketball teams defeated the Lexington high school fives Friday night on the local court. The boys trounced the Lexington crew

a 53-23 mark and the Tigerettes beat the Lexington girls by 26-20.

In the boys game the Tigers led throughout the contest. Paul Fitzpatrick was high point man with 11 counters to his credit. Lexington, playing together for the first time in several games, was unable to stop the local's fast break and never threatened the Tigers.

In the first game the Tigers led the Hubbard girls by a score of 26-20.

Led by Barbara Parks, who scored

13 points, the Hubbard girls came from behind at half time to record their second straight tilt.

New Medical Era Due To Cortisone

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 3—(P)—Today your doctor can buy cortisone to treat you and that is the start of a new era in medicine.

Cortisone is the hormone which astonished the medical world less than two years ago with veritable miracles in rheumatoid arthritis. Physicians became even more enthusiastic a little later when they discovered all the other ills for which this hormone is promising.

Two years ago there wasn't enough cortisone in the whole world to treat 50 persons, even though it had been known 10 years and worked on intensively for several. Cortisone didn't even have a price. It was made as a scientific experiment by Merck and Company, of Rahway, N. J. and all of it was given to the Mayo clinic.

By late summer of 1949 the first price was set, $200 a gram, a pinch of crystals that you could hold between thumb and one fingertip. In that entire year only hundreds of grams were made.

Use was restricted to medical institutions where new discoveries were made in rapid succession. In 1950 production rose to thousands of grams. And the hormone was supplied to about 6,500 hospitals.

In late 1950 the price had dropped, in successive steps, to $28 a gram for hospitals, and about $35 to doctors, with 350 drug distributors retailing it. About three months ago sale started to doctors. This means the actual cost of cortisone for one patient for one day may be as low as $1.75. Three to four dollars worth a day is frequent.

Reports that drug stores sell cortisone pills to the public are untrue. The hormone is too powerful and too dangerous to risk outside of medical supervision.

Cortisone is produced by your adrenal glands. They make only minute quantities. This hormone is not recovered from glands of animals in quantities enough to be useful. It has to be made by chemical synthesis. The principal raw materials is an acid from the bile of oxen. Early in 1949 it took the bile of 40 oxen to make one day's treatment for rheumatoid arthritis in one person.

Dr. Edward C. Kendall, of the Mayo clinic, discovered cortisone, and Dr. L. H. Sarett, of Merck and company, synthesized it, an incredibly difficult job, requiring more than thirty chemical steps. Merck then did one of the industrial miracles of this century in translating the synthesis from test tubes to large scale commercial manufacture. Their first plant is the most complicated synthetic operation in commercial use today.

Unable To Supply Need

A string of freight cars nearly one mile long would be required to carry all the raw materials which went into the making of the 1950 cortisone by this company (some thousands of grams). Merck's trade name is cortone. This year the company is building an additional cortone plant near Danville, Pa.

But making as much as doctors are going to need isn't even in sight. Other firms have been working, some trying to discover altogether different drugs with similar effects.

Recently scientists found a drug closely like cortisone, known as compound F, which appears to be much the same as cortisone. Acth is the master hormone, made in the brain's pituitary gland, which monitors the production of cortisone in adrenal glands. This hormone is given to stimulate your adrenals own cortisone production.

Publicized sources of raw materials for cortisone are an African vine, straphanthus sarmentosus, and tropical yams, but they are not producing this synthetic.

The fact that this doctors' imaginations hardest is the usefulness of cortisone on a variety of diseases previously thought to be completely unrelated.

This hormone works on inflamed tissues, and protects them against the cause of inflammation, whether that is germs, poisons or other irritation or heat or cold.

Doctors never before have had a remedy working so directly on such tissues.

In the first year cortisone was found useful for at least 16 diseases, some with names the public virtually never has heard.

In 1950 another cortisone miracle was discovered, the effect on burns. The few burn cases tried include people who surely would have died. With cortisone even their suffering stopped.

More intriguing than curing burns, from a scientific point of view, was evidence that cortisone makes it possible to graft skin from another person, and have that skin stay alive.

In the background is cortisone for aging. This hormone does not stop people from getting old, but it is the first medicine that helps many of the sort of tissue pains

U. S. Must Look Beyond The Working Woman'

By Adelaide Kerr
AP Newsfeature Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 — (AP) — Uncle Sam will have to find another pool of womanpower if he needs many more feminine workers for defense production.

Since the labor peak in World War II employment of women has gone down only eight per cent, national employment figures show, and less than a million women now are officially unemployed.

The only available source of new women workers is the reservoir of 37 million women who are not now in the labor market.

No official comment is available on this question, but figures released recently by the women's bureau of the Department of Labor hold some big surprises. They show that after World War II women did not "go home and stay there" in anything like the numbers expected; that more older women are working today, and that nearly half the women who now hold jobs are married and living with their husbands.

"In short, they show that United States women tend more and more to perform the dual function of worker and homemaker and that millions do their own housework," says Frieda Miller, head of the Women's Bureau. "Tilly the Toiler—maid of all work—is getting scarcer and scarcer as other job opportunities open. In 1940, 18 per cent of women workers were engaged in domestic service. Today only 10 per cent are."

At the peak of World War II, 19,980,000 women 14 years old and over were working. In November, 1950 (the last month for which figures are available) there were 18,561,000 compared with 11,940,000 in August, 1940. Although fewer women are working now than in 1944, it is still a striking increase over 1940.

Conditions Differ Now

The employment picture is different too. In 1940 eight million people were unemployed and almost three million were women. Today there are less than 3½ million looking for work and less than a million are women.

Very few of the women at work today have jobs resulting from the war effort. The Bureau of Employment Security of the Department of Labor says that reports from 152 major industrial areas show that Rosie the Riveter has not been called back to factory work in any appreciable numbers to date. So far factory orders relating to defense have been relatively small. Only a handful of industrial points have hired more women in production jobs.

Of the women at work today, 26 per cent do office work, 18 per cent are operatives or semi-skilled factory workers, 12 per cent are engaged in service work (not domestic), and 11 per cent are professional and semi-professional. The rest are proprietors, managers, officials, foremen, saleswomen, farmers, craftsmen and laborers.

Finds a Home

Here are further facts from the women's bureau report:

The average women worker is 10 years older now than she was at the beginning of the century. She was 26 then and is 36 now. This trend seems to be increasing. The age increase in the last 10 years almost equals that of the preceding 40 years.

There are many women 45 years old and over working now than there were in 1900 or even at the end of World War II. In 1945 women 45 years old and over were 25 per cent of all women workers. Today they are over 30 per cent.

Married women workers also have increased steadily. In 1949, 46 per cent of all women workers were married and living with their husbands. Back in 1940 this was true of only 30 per cent. By contrast the number of single women in the labor force dropped from 49 per cent to 33 per cent.

More significant still is the fact that a greater proportion of married women are working than ever before. In 1940 only about 15 per cent of married women living with their husbands were working. In 1949, 23 per cent held jobs.

Moreover, about 4½ million women who work are mothers with children under 18. One and a half million of them have children younger than school age. The greater proportion of these working mothers come from married women living with their husbands and not from the ranks of the widowed, separated or divorced.

Yugoslav U. N. Delegate Learns How Democracy Works

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON—In the delegates lounge of the United Nations, U.S. Ambassador Warren Austin stood listening to a group of earnest people. They talked at some length. Austin listened carefully, as patient as solid as the Vermont hills from which he comes.

At the other end of the delegates lounge Yugoslav Delegate Ales Bebler, stanch Maxst, though friendly to the U. S. A., sat talking to Miss Betty Jacobs, representative of the United Nations Childrens Fund. Intrigued at Ambassador Austin's lengthy conversation, Ambassador Bebler finally asked Miss Jacobs:

"What are those people doing, bothering Mr. Austin?"

"They are lobbying," Miss Jacobs replied. Then, noting the Yugoslav's puzzled expression, she continued: "That's an American system whereby the people can make their views known to the government. That group talking to Mr. Austin is a peace organization which has some ideas on China and Korea."

"Do you mean to say that just anyone can come in here and talk to your top delegate?" asked Ambassador Bebler.

"Yes, reputable citizens can always see the representatives of their government," Miss Jacobs explained. "That's part of the American system."

Bebler seemed greatly impressed. In order to understand the American system more fully, he is now reading Dorothy Detzer's book, "Appointment On The Hill," in which she describes her experiences in lobbying for better international relations.

Drafting 18-Year-Olds

Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower, was being grilled by the House Armed Services Committee on the question of drafting 18-year-olds.

Handsome Congressman Mendel Rivers of South Carolina picked up a sheet of paper and began firing questions.

"Why is it that France does not draft men until they are 19?" he asked.

"And Belgium," he continued, "does not draft until men are twenty, while Italy does not draft until men are 21?"

"That is correct, Congressman," replied Mrs. Rosenberg, "but you fail to state that you are reading from information which we supplied you, and you also neglected to read the rest of the memo—namely that Russia drafts at the age of 18, while China drafts at the age of 16."

"And what I am interested in," concluded the assistant secretary of defense, "is not what our friends do, but our potential enemies. We have established a minimum line of defense and we must get the men to meet it."

"You tell 'em, Anna," encouraged Chairman Vinson of Georgia in a very audible whisper. Mrs. Rosenberg later paid tribute to Congressman Rivers, says he has been one of the most helpful members of the Armed Services Committee.

Note—While Belgium drafts at 20 for only one year, and Italy at 21 for a year and a quarter, England drafts at 18 for two years, China at 16 for an indefinite period, and Russia at 18 for three years. However, if a Russian boy has not finished his secondary education at 18, he is not drafted until he is 19. The Soviet places great emphasis on education.

Citizen's Suggestion Box

Millions of Americans, though dreading war, are eager and anxious to help their government prepare for that eventuality, according to the voluminous mass of mail received by this columnist. There is a great unharvested reservoir of patriotic goodwill and activity in this country which can be put to work, and here is a citizens' suggestion box provided by the Washington Merry-Go-Round for better preparedness and for winning the cold war.

Warren A. Peterson, Duluth, Minn.—Have the post office department print a stamp bearing a message of hope, to be used on U. S. letters sent abroad. Many of these letters would eventually get behind the iron curtain.

D. H. Stein, Rochester, N. Y.—Let the defense department prepare plans to utilize civilians who are now working only 40 hours per week. The response of the American people would be terrific. Community-wide cooperation not only would put across important projects, but replace the present state of jitters with a feeling of pride and accomplishment, and a partnership with the men in uniform whose hours are not limited to 40 a week.

Flora Ross, Chicago, Ill.—Sears, Roebuck and Montgomery Ward catalogs dropped behind the iron curtain would constitute wonderful propaganda. Russian parents are no different from us. They don't want war either.

David A. Ritchie, Ulysses, Pa.—Let justice of the peace, aldermen, and notaries public volunteer their services without cost in the preparation of papers relating to violation of price control. This would save time and expense in preventing black marketeering.

Mrs. Daniel T. Cox, Prospect, Ky.—A group in Louisville, as well as others throughout the nation, have started a movement to get everyone to pause at 12 noon daily for a minute of silent prayer for peace, guidance, and the spread of Christianity . . . there is just as much truth in the power of prayer as there's in the power of gravity or electricity, neither of which you can see or touch.

Carl Landman, Palo Alto, Calif.—Create a huge organization to combat Russian propaganda, the staff to be recruited from refugees of Soviet oppression.

M. L. Donohoe, Charleston, W. Va.—Fourteen million hunting licenses were issued last year. The holders of these licenses can shoot with considerable accuracy. They can be organized for home defense.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Jardine, Jackson Heights, N. Y.—Persuade the nation's No. 1 pianist to make a record to be sold for the benefit of the U. S. A. Regardless of the music critics, we are sure that a record by H. S. T. at the keyboard would outsell "The Thing."

Rev. John R. Stelle, Indianapolis—A temporary government should be organized in advance, in case of an atomic attack on Washington.

Peron's Tyranny Is Threat To Free Press Everywhere

The Argentine newspaper, La Prensa, published in Buenos Aires, has long stood for liberty, integrity and independence in Latin America. So much is it a symbol that anything which curbs its freedom hurts the cause of free journalism in the whole world.

Since he came to power, President Juan Peron of Argentina has made many efforts to silence La Prensa's politically embarrassing criticisms of his regime.

The devices were varied. Once on some pretext the government seized the paper's newsprint. Another time La Prensa's delivery trucks were penalized by the issuance of innumerable traffic tickets. For months now, police have kept a guard in the paper's press room, blocking installation of a new press.

But one of these maneuvers successfully muzzled La Prensa, so a new and slightly more subtle trick has now been resorted to.

The news venders' union, a government-sponsored organization, is picketing the paper's offices and barring entry to its employees. The excuse for this tactic is La Prensa's refusal to grant the union's extreme demands for a monopoly on local distribution and 20 per cent of its want-ad revenue for a welfare fund.

Publication has been suspended. Meantime, this "strike" has been encouraged by the Peron press, which strangely is not confronted by similar demands from the venders. The government also has ignored several requests by the paper for police protection.

Why has Peron concocted this thinly-disguised scheme to curb La Prensa?

He has an election campaign coming up next year. More than a few aspects of his administration do not bear too close examination, from all accounts. He can't afford the kind of scrutiny he would get from an independent newspaper bent on telling people the truth. He wants a press which is nothing but a cheering section for him.

For the good of Argentina, of Latin America, of all free peoples, his latest attempt to stifle La Prensa should fail, like all the others. Moreover, it ought to be loudly advertised everywhere for what it is.

Peron is indulging in methods strongly reminiscent of the heyday of Hitler and Mussolini, not to mention Stalin today. To these dictators the press could have no place except as a complete tool of the regime. How is Peron different when he seeks to spoon-feed Argentinians with an uncritical view of his administration?

La Prensa's cause is one which free newspapers everywhere should champion. Peron should be made to understand that if he desires Argentina to hold a respected place among the family of nations he cannot rely up on the devices of totalitarian oppression.

Strictly From Hungary

The State Department has ordered all Hungarian diplomats in this country to restrict themselves to an area within 18 miles of the White House. This is in retaliation for a similar order against our diplomats in Budapest.

The "18 miles" was not our idea but the Hungarians'. One can't help wondering how they fastened on that mystical figure. Was it mere chance, or is there something they don't want us to see in that 19th mile beyond Budapest?

As far as it applies to the Washington area, the limitation seems pretty silly. The Hungarians could probably pick up a bit more intelligence free-talking Washington than by roaming about the country. So about all we're doing is denying them some nice picnic spots in rural Maryland and Virginia.

Atomic Cure For Divorce

Dispatches from Nevada about the recent A-bomb tests contain some interesting sidelights. One account has it that the state's lucrative divorce trade may be affected adversely. It's feared estranged couples will look for quieter places to untie the knot.

Sociologists who worry over our high divorce rate may perk up at this news. Put an A-bomb test in every easy-divorce state in the country and you might find a lot more couples determined to carry on bravely despite their differences.

Not Too DeadlyCrimson Holiday

By Jane Holinger

COPYRIGHT 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Lavinia Grenable, uncompromising and hateful old harridan, has ridden to her death in her wheel chair which rolled into a ravine at her home. Prior to the tragedy, Lisa Farwell had been asked by Court, oldest of Lavinia's two sons, to become his bride. Lisa's father, opposing the marriage, had told his daughter he would give his life to keep her from becoming Court's wife. Just after Mrs. Grenable's violent death, which Lisa saw in company with Angus Kent, Lisa spied her father, Henry Farwell, on a ridge near the scene. Next, Lisa noticed a movement in the shrubbery near where the wheel chair had been taken. She ran to Angus and Henry Farwell, who met them at the door, telling them that her mother had been informed of the tragedy by Ellsworth Stratton, sister of Lavinia.

Lisa was in her room preparing for bed. Angus had not stayed for dinner because the Ellsworths were expecting him. And Lisa, after a late dinner, had pleaded a headache and had gone upstairs to her room. She undressed, showered, and went through the routine of face cream and astrigent and then in the middle of long, vicious thrusts at her yellow hair she laid down the brush and stared at herself in the mirror.

"You're a fool," she said. "You moon around all through adolescence for a man you hardly know, one that you idolized from a distance, and when you're rewarded with his proposal—you promptly fall in love with the next man you meet!"

The brush clattered to the floor with her abrupt motion of self-condemnation. Courtney Grenable, Angus Kent. Direct opposites. Perhaps that was it.

He shook his head. "I would not like to be too sure, Lisa," was what he said, "that Lavinia Grenable will not make herself heard, even in death."

Without knowing why, she felt suddenly that she had said something very dangerous. She understood better the next morning.

But that night before events began to take on a terrible, double meaning, while the false peace protected her and she was given time to straighten her thoughts, she thought mostly of Angus. Angus and her father had revealed a comfortable acceptance of each other when they met. They were alike basically, she decided, and the decision startled her. In that flash of realization she knew now why it was that she had felt a strange, compelling acquaintance with this man when she first met him on the road that afternoon.

Though they looked nothing alike for her father was shorter and broader and balding and Angus was tall, almost angular and his hair was thick and wheat-colored, nevertheless they were alike. They were of the same mold of man. The knowledge shook her considerably.

In that flash of realization she knew now why it was that she had felt a strange, compelling acquaintance with this man when she first met him on the road that afternoon.

Though they looked nothing alike for her father was shorter and broader and balding and Angus was tall, almost angular and his hair was thick and wheat-colored, nevertheless they were alike. They were of the same mold of man. The knowledge shook her considerably.

SHE was in her room preparing for bed. Angus had not stayed for dinner because the Ellsworths were expecting him. And Lisa, after a late dinner, had pleaded a headache and had gone upstairs to her room.

She undressed, showered, and went through the routine of face cream and astrigent and then in the middle of long, vicious thrusts at her yellow hair she laid down the brush and stared at herself in the mirror.

"You're a fool," she said. "You moon around all through adolescence for a man you hardly know, one that you idolized from a distance, and when you're rewarded with his proposal—you promptly fall in love with the next man you meet!"

The brush clattered to the floor with her abrupt motion of self-condemnation. Courtney Grenable, Angus Kent. Direct opposites. Perhaps that was it.

He shook his head. "I would not like to be too sure, Lisa," was what he said, "that Lavinia Grenable will
